

Pia Wright

December 2017 Graduation

Major in Italian; Film Studies minor

While attending UCD I was an Italian major and Film Studies minor. I started working in catering when I was 15 years old and have consistently worked in food service jobs, mostly high end service, since then. I learned so much at UC Davis and especially in my time abroad in Italy doing a faculty led program. I learned how to be on my own, and grow as a person each day. I had to find my own path and discover who I was and what I wanted to do with my life while at Davis, which is a very hard question. But I found what I loved and followed it. I'm not where I want to be right now but I'm where I need to be. My advice is to try everything. Explore. Adventure. Grow every day and learn beyond the walls of the lecture halls. It will change your life.